This item is printed on demand - Print on Demand Neuware - Seminar paper from the year 2007 in the subject English - Pedagogy, Didactics, Literature Studies, grade: 2,3, University of Münster (Englisches Seminar), course: Teaching Literature to Younger Learners of English, 16 entries in the bibliography, language: English, abstract: In today's early foreign language teaching various media types such as coursebooks, songs, games and authentic children's literature are available and useful. As authentic children's books constitute an essential element of early foreign language teaching this term paper concentrates on the use of storybooks in general on the one hand; on the other hand it extensively deals with the examination and usage of one particular book. That is the Paddington Bear picture book, written by Michael Bond, illustrated by Robert W. Alley. Firstly, this term paper discusses general reasons for using storybooks in language teaching in primary schools. Besides giving some universal reasons the given objectives of English in German Primary schools on the basis of the syllabus are taken into consideration. Secondly the children's book Paddington Bear and its background will be presented shortly....

Reviews

A brand new electronic book with a new standpoint. It is written in basic phrases rather than confusing. It has been designed in an extremely basic way which is merely right after I finished reading through this publication where basically altered me, change the way I believe.

The publication is not difficult to study, preferable to fully grasp. It really is really intriguing through looking at the period of time. I found out this pdf from my dad and I advised this ebook to find out.
